

Responsible and Problem Gambling Information

Responsible Gambling Tips

- Only use money you can afford to lose
- Maintain a balance with other leisure activities
- Remember, the odds always favour the house
- Set a time limit and stick to it

Signs of Problem Gambling

- Constantly thinking or talking about gambling
- Gambling until your last dollar is gone, spending more than intended, or borrowing money to gamble
- Lying about wins, losses, or time spent gambling
- Feeling defensive, guilty, or arguing when asked about gambling
- Gambling to escape other problems
- Skipping school, work, or time with friends and family to gamble

BC Responsible Gambling Strategy

Services Include:

Counseling: Individual, couples, family, day treatment, and group counselling available

Education: Presentations, workshops, and training for all age groups

All services are free and confidential. Multilingual services available.

For more information, check out
www.bcreponsiblegambling.ca
or call 1-888-795-6111 (24 hrs)

Know your limit, play within it.

Balance

The difference between traditional games and gambling:

Traditional Games: Games establish connections and relationships between tribes and families.

Gambling: Gambling is usually an individual activity and is age restricted.

Traditional Games: Games play a role in ceremonies and celebrations.

Gambling: Games are still used in ceremonies and celebrations; however when money is wagered, we risk losing the value and meaning of the ceremony or celebration.

Traditional Games: Games teach skills of concentration and memory and develop physical stamina and ability.

Gambling: Most forms of gambling today do not involve skill and none develop physical stamina.

Traditional Games: Games play with the concept of the trickster and promote laughter and lightheartedness.

Gambling: Because of the risk of losing money or other valuables, there is very little laughter or lightheartedness associated with gambling.

Traditional Games: Games develop character, honour and integrity.

Gambling: Gambling is risking money (or other valuables) on an activity of chance where money may be won or lost. It takes time and money, not integrity.

For more information, check out
www.bcreponsiblegambling.ca
or call 1-888-795-6111 (24 hrs)

Know your limit, play within it.

